4. PW's CONNECTION WITH ABWEHR I LUFT.

(a) First contact.

Oct 1942 - PW was with I.N.B. 26 at MOEWATE when he received a phone call from OKW BERLIN, telling him to report to OKW Tirpitzufer 80/82, Room 333: he learnt later that the originator of the call was the Adj of Abwehr I Luft, Eptm BRENNER. This call was followed by a TP message confirming the summons, and signed by Major BRENNER. PW left at once for BERLIN, where he was interviewed by Major BRENNER, who told him that his knowledge of the Danish language was already known to them, and he was asked whether he would like to go to KOPENHAGEN as a Bearbeiter for Abwehr I Luft. When PW asked if this meant as an agent, it was explained that he would merely have to act as a "Welfare Officer" to certain people who would be sent there at some future date: it was further emphasized that he would NOT be stationed at the Ast. PW decided to accept and then returned to his bn. About ten days later he was told to meet Major BOECKEL at KOPENHAGEN A/P and together they went to HQ of PW's div, where BOECKEL had a conversation with the Div Comd. Then BOECKEL went alone to Kap. z.S. HOWOLD (Chief of Ast KOPENHAGEN) and to the Wehrwirtschaft HQ, to which it had been decided to attach PW. This was followed by a courtesy visit to PW's bn comd a couple of days later.

Mid-Nov 42 PW received TP order to join OKW Abwehr I Luft in BERLIN. Here he spent 14 days reading up Io reports and studying RAF uniforms, aircraft types etc. He was treated very peremptorily and received no instruction, but was chiefly employed as a "stooge" by Major BRENNER.

(b) Subsequent activities.

End Nov 42 PW was sent to KOPENHAGEN where he met Major BOECKEL again and was taken to the Ast, where reception was very cool. Finally he was installed with the WeWi HQ and told it would not be possible to send anyone to him yet as the personnel had to be trained in their work first, meanwhile he should get acquainted with the district and local conditions. PW found life extremely boring and asserts that his only activity was in assisting at Courts Martial in 160 I.D. During his stay (in Apr), he was visited by a Major v. BENTHEIM, and he also saw HOWOLD concerning PW.

In Oct 44, PW requested short leave in order to visit his wife and children at GLAVE nr KRAKOW-am-See; and Obstlt OHLEITZ arranged a duty visit to STETTIN for him.
